Exhibit Overview

For one night only, RESOBOX will host an ice sculpture exhibit designed by Okamoto Studio, a unique studio whose only medium is ice. Visitors can come to our gallery all night long to view the sculpture as it melts and turns into something even more unique and beautiful.

Keep in ice to overcome the Sun.

Freeze in ice to slow the Time.

Locked in ice, and the negative becomes solid.

And the solid, now going back to liquid, is nothing but a summer's daydream.

About the Artist: OKAMOTO STUDIO

Okamoto Studio thrives on taming the complexities of ice to create the desired experience. This means careful execution of details that are seen as crucial for the success of each piece. Okamoto Studio gives a slab ice base to all of their sculptures so they stand secure while covering the tray for a clean, modern look. Finely sculpted ice is only half the game; they also give deep thought to presentation strategies by offering ideas for placements, changing designs based on the duration of the display, and custom-building trays with uplighting set within. On time and within budget, Okamoto Studio is fun, inspired, and reliable so our ice serves its true purpose – to embody your dreams and desires for the memory forever to enjoy.
